Miriam “Mimi” Maccoby Netter, Esq.

Miriam “Mimi” Maccoby Netter

Miriam “Mimi” Maccoby Netter’s continued overriding interests in law had been influenced by her dedication to education for all, keeping current with emerging areas of the law, and mentoring of attorneys. She had placed an emphasis on women because of their difficulty in gaining access to many areas of legal practice.

Ms. Netter was born in Mount Vernon, NY, graduated from Brown University (Providence RI) and then from Albany Law School (Albany NY) with honors. She was a law review editor and received many awards evidencing her high academic achievements. She then went on to engage in the general practice of law representing universities, colleges, corporations, individuals, and not for profit organizations, and was afforded the opportunity to work with startup companies in developing intellectual property law and to serve on the Albany Law School Center for Law and Innovation.

Ms. Netter found it increasingly rewarding to assist both charitable organizations and women. As a partial result of her efforts, she received the inaugural Ruth M. Miner award from The Legal Aid Society of Northeast New York; The Community Service Award of the Wildwood Programs; The Third Age Achievement Award in the field of law of the Senior Services Foundation of Albany; The Governor’s Award for Leadership in Lighting at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute; the Special Service Award from the Kidney Foundation of Northeast NY where she served as legal counsel for 18 years; and the Shining Star award from Capital Repertory Theatre. She served as an officer and/or board member for many of these organizations. Perhaps most important were her efforts to obtain funding for and promotion of the highly prized annual Kate Stoneman Award at Albany Law School. The award, given to the keynote speaker at the annual Kate Stoneman event, has been named in her honor.

Ms. Netter became an early member of the New York State Bar Association’s (NYSBA) Intellectual Property Law (IP) Section in order to share her early knowledge of IP and to learn from others in similar situations. Her involvement with NYSBA included service as Vice President of the Third Judicial Department, chair of the Membership Committee, on the Bylaws Committee, longtime IP section Copyright Committee co-chair, continuing member of the IP Executive Committee, and chair of the Special Committee on Committees as well as many other committees and initiatives. As a member of the Committee on Attorney Professionalism, Ms. Netter initiated the prestigious annually conferred Award for Attorney Professionalism. She was a constant promoter of diversity in the profession and its leadership. She passed away in September 2010 after a lengthy illness.
